BUYS INTEREST IN LOCAL FIRM

One of Louisville's Best Business Men Becomes Interested in Profitable Mt. Sterling Business.

Mr. George Hays, of the Louisville Seed Company, has purchased an interest in the Blue Grass Seed Company. It is expected that this company will do a greater business now than it has ever done before. For a number of years we have known Mr. Hays and it is with pleasure that we introduce him to our good people. Mr. Hays is not only a reliable and correct business man but is an active church worker with his influence on the right side of all moral questions.

Mr. Hays will not become a resident of Mt. Sterling, but by reason of this business relation will be here frequently and will add greatly to Mt. Sterling's moral and business interests.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grubbs entertained with an elegant four course dinner at their handsome home in Winchester Friday evening, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, and also the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Grubbs, of Mt. Sterling. The attractive home was elaborately decorated with cut flowers, the hall in crimson ramblers, the living room in yellow roses and the dining room in pink. The table was beautiful, the centerpiece being pink poppies and maiden hair fern, and covers were laid for the following relatives from this city: Mrs. Sarah Winn, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Winn, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Winn, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Winn, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Grubbs, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Prewitt, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. D. U. Lipscomb, and Mrs. Mary W. Lockridge.

"DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS COCKED"

Roger Stephens was out one day last week with his 22 rifle and had it across his shoulder. It was cocked and he didn't know it. He had his left hand over the end of the barrel and in some way it was discharged, the bullet passing through the flesh between the fingers, producing only a slight wound. No bones were broken.

PRES. WILSON RE-NOMINATED

President Wilson and Vice President Marshall Again Selected to Lead Democratic Party.

At six minutes before midnight, Thursday, Woodrow Wilson was re-nominated for President by the Democratic convention. The nomination was made by acclamation.

The nomination of Wilson was not unanimous—quite Robert Emmett Burke, of Illinois, voted "no" when at 11:55 Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, moved to nominate the President by acclamation.

When Burke, who came to St. Louis for the express purpose of voting against Wilson, had shouted his "no!" Chairman James thundered:

"I declare Woodrow Wilson the nominee of this convention by a vote of 1,092 to 1." Burke was hissed by the assemblage.

A demonstration lasting 45 minutes followed the placing of Wilson's name before the convention by a vote of 1,092 to 1." Burke was hissed by the assemblage.

Many brief seconding speeches were made from States considered doubtful in the coming campaign, Judson Harmon, who opposed the President at Baltimore, as a rival candidate, made a seconding speech.

There was no opposition to Marshall. All the several aspirants for the honor withdrew, including Roger Sullivan, Chicago, and Governor Major, Missouri.

Former Secretary of State Bryan praised the laws enacted by the Administration in an address before the convention.

All the speakers of the session, which followed the clock far around the corner of midnight, resounded the "Wilson has kept us out of war" key-note sounded by Glynn.

A long delay in the completion of platform made it necessary to defer its adoption until after the nomination.

Prompt and powerful were the approving responses to every suggestion that the party leader was conducting the nation's affairs properly and that his course toward the European situation was safe, sane and certain. Especially energetic were the delegates in rallying to their leader in his stand upon neutrality and his censure of those of foreign birth in the United States who are displaying a divided allegiance.

Senator James said in defense of the President:

"Without orphaning a single child, without widowing a single American mother, without firing a single gun, without the shedding of a single drop of blood, he wrung from the most militant spirit that ever brooded above a battlefield an acknowledgment of American rights and an agreement of American demands."

MR. W. T. PHELPS DIES SATURDAY

Was One of the Best Known and Highest Esteemed Farmers in Montgomery County.

Mr. William T. Phelps, 78 years old, one of the best known men in this county, died Saturday evening of a complication of diseases. He was a wealthy farmer and stockman and was widely known all over Kentucky.

There is no language at our command by which we can fittingly portray the sincerity of this man's Christian character; and the writer hereof can safely say he never met one who seemed to more nearly walk hand in hand with God. Conscience guided every act. He was a model of mental industry in his efforts to entertain and instruct his people. He was strictly honest in the service he rendered. In short, he was not only a Christian, but he was an honorable gentleman, in the highest sense that term implies.

To man, woman or child, saint or sinner, he always extended a cordial greeting that lent a ray of light to brighten their pathway in the journey of life. He commanded the respect of all sects and classes of people, as the attendant at his funeral fully verified.

It was so perfectly natural for him to do right. We did not fully appreciate his true worth until after the thread of life was severed. But as we caught a glimpse of the snow white sail that bore him away to the distant shore, we awakened to the realization that a good and righteous man had been taken from our midst.

Three sisters, Mrs. Burgin, Mrs. Sallie Berry and Mrs. Amanda Clay, of this county, survive him. He was never married.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at his late residence, conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie and Rev. Horace Kingsbury. The remains were laid to rest in Machpelah cemetery.

PRISONER RECAPTURED

Joe Miller, who has been serving a term in the city jail for bootlegging, escaped from the Street Commissioner Saturday but was captured in Winchester. Policeman Burns and Flora brought the prisoner from that city and lodged him in jail.

Miller had been given a fine of $100.00 and 40 days in jail and had served the greater part of his time.

ANOTHER BOOTLEGGER CAUGHT

George Redmond, colored, was tried before Judge Ben R. Turner Monday charged with bootlegging and was found guilty and given $100.00 fine and forty days in jail, which is the limit. The local police and Judge Turner are to be congratulated upon the manner in which the law is being enforced.

PROMINENT COUPLE MARRY

Popular Local Dentist Marries Accomplished Franklin County Lady.

Last Wednesday evening at Lexington, Dr. S. F. Hamilton, of this city, married Miss Foretta M. South, attractive daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. K. P. South, of Franklin county. Miss South is a highly cultured lady, having for some years been a teacher in vocal and instrumental music in a Franklin, Va., college. Her father is a Christian evangelist, while her mother has for some thirty years been principal of the Excelsior Institute, near Frankfort.

Dr. Hamilton is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, of this county, a dentist by profession and one of our most substantial citizens.

Upon behalf of a host of friends, we extend felicitations.

MISSING BOY LOCATED

Stanley Cockerham, aged 15, who disappeared from his home at Jeffersonville, Montgomery county, a week ago, has been located in Clark county. Cockerham is working on the farm of Mr. Claud Turley, near Winchester, and going under the name of Gibbs. The police were asked to help locate the boy and when Mr. Turley read the description he formed the opinion that he was the boy wanted. He communicated with the authorities and when the boy was questioned he admitted his identity.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Cockerham were very much exercised over his sudden disappearance but were satisfied, when he had been located, that he was in good hands and will be allowed to continue in his present employment.

DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Mrs. D. J. Burchett, of this county, received a message Saturday announcing the death of her sister, Mrs. Laura Park, which occurred at Los Angeles, Cal., Friday after a long illness of general debility. Mrs. Park was 73 years old and a daughter of the late William Ragan, a wealthy citizen of this county. Mrs. Park was a highly esteemed Christian lady and was well remembered by many of the older residents of Montgomery county.

JUNE COURT DAY MARKET

Nearly 3,000 Cattle on the Market—Prices High and Trading Was Good.

Big run of cattle and all the pens taken. Between 2,500 and 3,000 cattle on the market. Trade while not brisk, was good and prices high. A good crowd at the pens and all surrounding counties were represented. No heavy steers on the market. Yearlings sold at $7 to $7.50 by weight and we saw two fancy 650-pound ones sell at $8.50 and the purchaser resold them at $1.00 on the head profit. By the head light yearlings, about 500-pounds, sold readily at from $8 to $9; heifers at $7 to $7.20, weighed up; cows at 5½ to 6½c, with some fat cows as high as $7.00; bulls at 6c to 6½c; old cows and rough oxen, 4½c to 5c. A great many cattle sold during the day, but as most of them sold by the head it was with difficulty we caught sales. We give a few by weight also by the head:

SALES

Jas. Wilson sold a fat 900-pound cow to T. N. Todd at $7.25; Thos. Craft sold 10 about 625-pound steers to W. D. Clark & Son, of Clark county, at $46 per head; Shelby Cunnion sold 35 about 550-pound steers to A. B. Ratliff at $46 per head; Chenault Woodford sold a 1,100-pound steer to Thos. Greene at 8½c; F. P. Boyd, of Bath county, bought 21 about 450-pound heifers of Noah Lyons at $30 per head; Rex Hall bought 35 about 450-pound steers at $37.75 of Carl Trimble; Sam Keeton sold 10 about 650-pound heifers at $45 and 12 about 600-pound heifers at $43 per head. We did not get the names of purchasers. Buford Nichol sold 25 600-pound heifers to Hiram Long, of Paris, at $7.25; Geo. Halsey sold 10 850-pound cows to Jonas Weil, of Lexington, at $5.25; Mike Wilson sold 10 500-pound heifers to Joe H. Downing, of Fayette county, at 7c; Mr. Wilson also sold 10 750-pound cows to Geo. Halsey at 4½c, and 7 about 850-pound cows to Mike O'Connell, of Carlisle, at $49 per head; Shelby Cunnion sold 24 about 350-pound steer calves to Ben W. Hall at $30 per head. Sales were steady all day and about all the cattle sold by weight.

MULES AND HORSES

Very few mules on the market and they were mostly a common lot. Thos. Fitzpatrick sold a 6-year-old pair of horse mules to Garrard Bros., of Winchester, at $3.25. A lot of army mules sold at from $100 to $120. Joe H. Hurt sold a nice bay mare to C. L. Faulkner, of Winchester, at $180.

MEXICAN CRISIS IS SERIOUS

Militia of Every State in the Union Called Out for Border Patrol—War Probable.

Upon General Carranza's reception of a stern refusal to heed his demand for recall of American troops from Mexico hinges the question of a war with Mexico, in the opinion of President Wilson's close advisers.

Virtually the entire mobile strength of the national guard of all states and the District of Columbia were ordered mustered into the Federal service Sunday night by President Wilson. About 100,000 men are ready to respond to the call. They will be mobilized for such service on the Mexican border as may later be assigned to them. General Frederick Funston, commanding the border forces, will designate the time and place for movements of guardsmen to the international line as the occasion shall require.

In announcing the orders Secretary Baker said the state forces would be employed only to guard the border and that no additional troop movements into Mexico were contemplated except in pursuit of raiders.

Simultaneously with the national guard call Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department, ordered additional war vessels to Mexican waters on both coasts to safeguard American lives.

While the diplomatic steps were in progress Monday, the nation was stirring throughout the width and breadth with the movement of national guardsmen mobilizing to guard the border. At least 100,000 and possibly a far larger number were preparing for active service under President Wilson's call. For the present their mission will be purely one of defense, but should war come, they will be ready also for that. No marching orders for the new forces has gone out. They will be assigned for border duty until mustered into the Federal service.

BECKHAM PORTRAIT

Painting of Kentucky Senator Graces Walls of Oklahoma Courthouse.

The Sayre Standard, of Beckham county, Okla., contains an interesting account of the meeting of the bar of that county incident to the receipt of a portrait of Senator J. C. W. Beckham, of Kentucky, in whose honor Beckham county, Okla., received its name.

The county that now bears the name of Kentucky's distinguished United States Senator was originally a part of Mills county, which derived its name from the late Roger Q. Mills, of Kentucky and Texas. It having been found necessary some time ago to create a new county and the fact developing that considerable portion of the residents of the county were of Kentucky birth or descent, it was decided to name the new county Beckham county.

Several months ago Senator Beckham had his portrait painted by a well known Eastern artist and sent the portrait to the president of the Beckham County Bar Association, Mr. R. E. Echols. The portrait was received, and the Sayre Standard gives an account of the acceptance of the same.

Circuit Judge Hendrix presided at the meeting, which was attended by hundreds of citizens in addition to the members of the Beckham county bar. Judge Hendrix spoke briefly of the career of J. C. W. Beckham, of Kentucky, noting the part he played in building one of the most beautiful State capitols in the country without one cent being wasted, of his work in freeing his State from debt, and of his broad ability and force of character, which resulted later in his election to the United States Senate.

Chairman Echols, of the Bar Association, moved that the portrait of the Kentucky Senator be placed upon the walls of the court room and this carried by unanimous vote.

Mr. Echols' address appears in the Sayre Standard. He related the circumstances under which Beckham county secured its name and the efforts made by the proper committee to secure a name for the county which would represent some man equally noted for character as well as for ability. Few members of the committee had the slightest personal acquaintance with J. C. W. Beckham, of Kentucky, but, after studying the latter's record as Senator, the committee decided unanimously that he was the man for whom they wished to name their county.

Senator Beckham has received an urgent invitation to visit his namesake county in Oklahoma and address the bar of the county, and it is understood that he will make an effort to do so some time in the future.

A STRANGE WILL
Several years ago Charles Lounsberry, a Chicago lawyer, who at one time ranged high in his profession, died an insane patient at the Cook county asylum at Dunning. Although this man died absolutely destitute and penniless, he left the following will:

"I, Charles Lounsberry, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make and publish this, my last will and testament, in order as justly as may be, to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

"ITEM: I leave to children inclusively, but only for the term of their childhood, all and every, the flowers of the fields and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely according to the custom of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns.

"And I devise children the banks of the brooks and the golden sands beneath the waters thereof, and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees.

"And I leave to the children the long, long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways, and the night and moon, and train of the milky way to wonder at, but subject, nevertheless, to the rights herein-after given to Lovers.

"ITEM: I devise to Boys, jointly, all the useful idle fields and commons where ball may be played; all pleasant waters where one may swim; all snow clad hills where one may coast, and all streams and ponds where one may fish, or where, when grim winter comes, one may skate, to have and to hold these same for the period of their boyhood. And all meadows with the clover blossoms and butterflies thereof, the woods, with their appurtenances, the squirrels and the birds and the echoes and strange noises, and all distant places, which may be visited, together with the adventures there found.

"ITEM: To Lovers, I devise their imaginary world, with whatever they may need, as the stars of the sky, the red roses by the wall, the bloom of the hawthorn, the sweet strains of music and aught else they may desire to figure to each other the lastingness and beauty of their love.

"ITEM: To Young Men, jointly I devise and bequeath all boisterous, inspiring sports of rivalry and I give to them the disdain of weakness, and undaunted confidence in their own strength, though they are rude, I leave to them the power to make lasting friendships and possessing companions, and to them exclusively, I give all merry songs and brave choruses to sing with lusty voices.

"ITEM: To our loved ones with snowy crowns, I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children till they fall asleep."

If you have any doubt in your mind as to the good that can come to you by living in the sunshine way, we ask you to try for one day and prove by personal experience whether or not it is worth your while to scatter sunshine. Begin at once by trying to make those about you in your home happier. Keep a sharp lookout for little opportunities of helpfulness. Be courteous and kind whenever you speak or are spoken to. Be pleasant to everyone everywhere. Be willing to sacrifice your own personal enjoyment if by doing so you make another person happier. Do all this and see when night comes if your own heart is not full to overflowing with peace and joy unspeakable.

We wish for immortality. The thought of an annihilation is horrible, even to conceive it is almost impossible. The will is a kind of argument, it is not likely that God would have given all men such feelings if He had not meant to gratify.—F. E. Robertson.

TO HAVE FRIENDS,

BE A FRIEND

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

There is reason for a suspicion, if not more than a suspicion, that the art of friendship is dying out among us.

The friendships of the ancients were very exacting. In modern times we would look a long while for such mutual regard as that of Damon and Pythias.

Friendship in our crowded days covers a wider area, but as in the case of all extensive development it has lost intensively. Instead of friendships we have visiting lists.

Not those whom we love, but those whom we would propitiate, we invite to dinner. Those who would propitiate us invite us in turn and permit us to eat.

We live, alas! in the suburbs of each other's hearts.

The man without friends can accomplish very little in this world. Depending on his own strength alone, his mightiest endeavors are as nothing. At harvest time he gathers nothing but leaves.

But the man with friends—strong friends, true friends and loyal friends—who have confidence in his integrity and ability to do things, has great power. When he leads they will follow him, and all working together unitedly bring victory. This is the reason why some men achieve great success with moderate abilities, while their more brilliant competitors fall short.

This is true in every business and profession. It does not matter so much whether a man has enemies or not as that he has true friends who will stand by him and never desert him.

To have loyal friends is worth all else. To have friends who can be depended on is to gain success in life.

To have true friends you must be one the quality of loyalty you get depends on the quality you give.—Danville, Ill., Press.

Home! One is more than ever impressed by the significance of that word, when, even in the roughest little hamlet, and most desolate looking hut, it may mean so much to those who were born in it. It is a beautiful trait, this clinging to the very soil of one's birthplace, sterile and unattractive as it may be to those who have no such associations.

WHEN YOU'RE SAWING WOOD

Old man's sayin'

Today holds good;

The sawdust flies

When you're sawin' wood.

Never teach false morality. How exquisite absurd to tell girls that beauty is of no value, dress of no use. Beauty is of value, her whole prospect of happiness in life may often depend upon a new gown or a becoming bonnet, and if she has five grains of sense she will find this out.—Sydney Smith.

Banish the future; live only for the hour and its allotted work. Think not of the amount to be accomplished, the difficulties to overcome, but set earnestly at the little task at your elbow, letting that be sufficient for the day; for surely your plain duty is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand.—William Osler.

It doesn't hurt to tell the truth once in a while. Eve was the only woman on record whose husband never tried to flirt with some other woman.

Some people act so foolish that you would think that there is a law against simple common sense.

The Factory

Behind the Food

More than forty different kinds of corn flakes were prepared experimentally before New Post Toasties were finally developed to perfection. As a distinguishing feature, note the tiny bubbles on each flake—raised by the quick, intense heat of a new, patented process of manufacture.

New Post Toasties are the first corn flakes with a self-developed flavor—the full, true flavor of choice white Indian Corn—unlike common "corn flakes" that depend largely on cream and sugar for their palatability.

Try a handful dry—this simple test will demonstrate the delicious new flavor. But the flakes are usually served with cream or rich milk.

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package, and they "stand up" when cream or milk is added. They're untouched by human hands and put up in moisture-proof packages to preserve their oven freshness until served.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce the following gentlemen as Democratic candidates for Congress in this, the Ninth District, at the State primary, August 5th, 1916:

HON. W. J. FIELDS, OF CARTER COUNTY
HON. J. W. RILEY, OF ROWAN COUNTY
HON. J. B. HILES, OF BRACKEN COUNTY
HON. H. C. DUFFY, OF HARRISON COUNTY

OUR TICKET AND PLATFORM

The Democratic party presents to the people of the nation an unconquerable ticket on an incomparable platform and appeals for support upon a record of performance and not profession. That it will grow in popular favor and ultimately triumph at the polls is the belief of those who have faith in the wisdom, patriotism and sense of justice of the masses.

The platform is pronounced by all who make a study of such documents, to be the most ringing declaration of principles ever promulgated. Lacking, as it does, in neither courage, clearness nor completeness, it is both a call and a challenge. It boldly proclaims allegiance to America first, last and always; there is no "pussy-footing" about it, as Roosevelt would say, nor is there anything about it that could be construed as a bid for the hyphenated-American vote. On the contrary it challenges the right of the Kaiser to dictate our national policies and is a call to arms of all those who love this country more than any other, who place patriotism above partisan politics and who want liberty, peace and prosperity to continue both in name and in fact in the land of the free. The platform in full appears in this issue and should be read carefully by every voter.

NEGRO HELD TO GRAND JURY

Frank Williams, alias "Show Boy," a negro, who broke into the residences of Dr. J. A. Shirley and Mrs. John Engleman, was tried here and held to the Montgomery County grand jury in both cases under $300 bond, which he failed to give and was remanded to jail. Williams is a notorious character and as the evidences against him are very strong and he is said to have made many damaging admissions, he will likely go to the penitentiary. Williams secured entrance into the room of Miss Flo Shirley about midnight last Wednesday, and the young woman was badly frightened. The arrest was made by police officers Burns and Flora and Chief James Tipton. The negro was barefooted when he entered the houses and was traced by his bare feet.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR

Sunday evening this city and county was visited by a heavy rain, accompanied by a terrific wind. The creeks and branches were all out of bounds and much damage was done throughout the county and the crops in the lowlands were literally washed out. Telephone wires and poles were blown down and much inconvenience was caused, and the company sustained a heavy loss. This was the heaviest rainfall of the year.

Democratic Platform

The Democratic party, in national convention assembled, adopts the following declaration, to the end that the people of the United States may both realize the achievements wrought by four years of Democratic administration and be apprised of the policies to which the party is committed for the further conduct of national affairs:

We indorse the Administration of Woodrow Wilson. It speaks for itself. It is the best exposition of sound Democratic policy at home and abroad.

We challenge comparison of our record, our keeping of pledges and our constructive legislation, with those of any party of any time.

We found our country hampered by special privilege, a vicious tariff, obsolete banking laws and an inelastic currency. Our foreign affairs were dominated by commercial interests for their selfish ends. The Republican party, despite repeated pledges, was impotent to correct abuses which it had fostered. Under our administration, under a leadership which has never faltered, these abuses have been corrected and our people have been freed therefrom.

Banking Laws Reformed.

Our archaic banking and currency system, prolific of panic and disaster under Republican Administrations—long the refuge of the money trust—has been supplanted by the Federal reserve act, a true democracy of credit under Government control, already proved a financial bulwark in a world crisis, mobilizing our resources, placing abundant credit at the disposal of legitimate credit and making a currency panic impossible.

We have created a Federal Trade Commission to accommodate the perplexing questions arising under the anti-trust laws so that monopoly may be strangled at its birth and legitimate industries encouraged. Fair competition in business is now assured.

We have effected an adjustment of the tariff, adequate for revenue under peace conditions and fair to the consumer and to the producer. We have adjusted the burdens of taxation so that swollen incomes bear their equitable share. Our revenues have been sufficient in times of world stress and will largely exceed the expenditures for the current fiscal year.

We have lifted human labor from the category of commodities and have secured to the working-man the right of voluntary association for his protection and welfare. We have protected the rights of the laborer against the unwarranted issuance of writs of injunction, and have guaranteed to him the right of trial by jury in alleged contempt cases committed outside the presence of the court.

Parcel Post Efficient.

We have advanced the parcel post to genuine efficiency, enlarged the postal savings system, added 10,000 rural delivery routes and extensions, thus reaching 2,500,000 additional people; improved the postal service in every branch, and for the first time in our history placed the post-office system on a self-supporting basis, with actual surpluses in 1913, 1914 and 1916.

The reforms which were most obviously needed to clear away privilege, prevent unfair discrimination and release the energies of men of all ranks and advantages have been effected by recent legislation. We must now remove, as far as possible, every remaining element of unrest and uncertainty from the path of the business men of America and secure for them a continued period of quiet, assured and confident prosperity.

We reaffirm our belief in the doctrine of a tariff for the purpose of providing sufficient revenue for the operation of the Government, economically administered, and unreservedly indorse the Underwood tariff law as truly exemplifying that doctrine. We recognize that tariff rates are necessarily subject to change to meet changing conditions in the world's production and trade. The events of the last two years have brought about many momentous changes. In some respects their effects are yet conjectural and wait to be disclosed, particularly in regard to our foreign trade.

Investigation of Tariff.

Two years of a war which has directly involved most of the chief industrial nations of the world, and which has indirectly affected the life and industry of all nations, are bringing about economic changes more varied and far-reaching than the world has ever before experienced. In order to ascertain just what those changes may be, the Democratic Congress is providing for a nonpartisan tariff commission to make impartial and thorough study of every economic fact that may throw light either upon our past or upon our future fiscal policy with regard to the imposition of taxes on imports or with regard to the changed and changing conditions under which our trade is carried on.

We cordially indorse this timely proposal and declare ourselves in sympathy with the principle and purpose of shaping legislation within that field in accordance with clearly established facts, rather than in accordance with the demands of selfish interests, or upon information provided largely, if not exclusively, by them.

Shipping Bill Endorsed.

We heartily indorse the purposes and policy of the pending shipping bill and favor all such additional measures of constructive or remedial legislation as may be necessary to restore our flag to the seas and to provide further facilities for our foreign commerce, particularly such laws as may be made to remove unfair conditions of competition in the dealings of American merchants and producers with competitors in foreign markets.

The part that the United States will play in the new day of internationalism which is now upon us will depend upon our preparation and our character. The Democratic party therefore recognizes the assertion and triumphant demonstration of the indivisibility and coherent strength of the nation as the supreme issue of the day in which the whole world faces the crisis of manifold changes it summons all men, of whatever origin or creed, who would count themselves Americans, to join in making clear to all the world the unity and consequent power of America.

Issue of Patriotism.

This is an issue of patriotism. To taint it with partisanship would be to defile it. In this day of test America must show itself, not a nation of partisans, but a nation of patriots. There is gathered here in America the best of the blood, the industry and the genius of the whole world, the elements of a great race and a magnificent society to be melted into a mighty and splendid nation.

Whoever, actuated by the purpose to promote the interest of a foreign Power, in disregard of our own country's welfare or to injure this Government in its foreign relations or cripple or destroy its industries at home, and whoever by arousing prejudices of a racial religious or other nature creates discord and strife among our people so as to obstruct the wholesome process of unification, is faithless to the trust which the privileges of citizenship repose in him and disloyal to his country.

We therefore condemn as subversive of this nation's unity and integrity and as destructive of its welfare the activities and designs of every group or organization, political or otherwise, that has for its object the advancement of the interest of a foreign Power, whether such object is promoted by intimidating the Government, a political party or representatives of the people, or which is calculated and tends to divide our people into antagonistic groups and thus to destroy that complete agreement and solidarity of the people and that unity of sentiment and national purpose so essential to the perpetuity of the nation and its free institutions.

Conspirators Condemned.

We condemn all alliances and combinations of individuals in this country, of whatever nationality or descent, who agree and conspire together for the purpose of embarrassing or weakening our Government or of improperly influencing or coercing our public representatives in dealing or negotiating with any foreign Power. We charge that such conspiracies among a limited number exist and have been instigated for the purpose of advancing the interests of foreign countries to the prejudice and detriment of our own country. We condemn any political party which, in view of the activity of such conspirators, surrenders its integrity or modifies its policy.

Along with the proof of our character as a nation must go the proof of our power to play the part that legitimately belongs to us. The people of the United States love peace. They respect the rights and covet the friendship of all other nations. They desire neither any additional territory nor any advantage which cannot be peacefully gained by their skill their industry or their enterprise, but they insist upon having absolute freedom of national life and policy and feel that they owe it to themselves and to the rest of the world to maintain their independence which it is their sole ambition to play that they should render themselves secure against the hazard of interference from any quarter, and should be able to protect their rights upon the seas or in any part of the world

Adequate Army Favored.

We therefore favor the maintenance of an army fully adequate to the requirements of order, of safety and of the protection of the nation's rights, the fullest development of modern methods, of sea-coast defense and the maintenance of an adequate reserve of citizens trained to arms, and be prepared to safeguard the people and territory of the United States against any danger of hostile action which may unexpectedly arise, and a fixed policy for the continuous development of a navy worthy to support the great naval traditions of the United States and fully equal to the international tasks which the United States hopes and expects to take a part in performing. The plans and enactments of the present Congress afford substantial proof of our purpose in this exigent matter.

The Democratic Administration has throughout the present war scrupulously and successfully held to the old paths of neutrality and of the peaceful pursuit of the legitimate objects of our national life, which statesmen of all parties and creeds have prescribed for themselves in America since the beginning of our history. But the circumstances of the last two years have revealed necessities of international action which no former generation can have foreseen.

We hold that it is the duty of the United States to use its power, not only to make itself safe at home, but also to make secure its just interests throughout the world, and both for this end and in the interests of humanity, to assist the world in securing settled peace and justice.

Must Respect Sovereignty.

We believe that every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live; that the small States of the world have a right to enjoy from other nations the same respect from their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon; and that the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression or disregard of the rights of peoples and nations; and we believe that the time has come when it is the duty of the United States to join with the other nations of the world in any feasible association that will effectively serve these principles, to maintain inviolate the complete security of the highway of the seas for the common and unhindered use of all nations.

The present Administration has consistently sought to act upon and realize in its conduct of the foreign affairs of the nation the principle that should be the object of any association of the nations formed to secure the peace of the world and the maintenance of national and individual rights. It has followed the highest American traditions. It has preferred respect for the fundamental rights of smaller States even to property interests, and has secured the friendship of the people of these States for the United States by refusing to make a more material interest an excuse for the assertion of our superior power against the dignity of their sovereign independence.

It has regarded the lives of its citizens and the claims of humanity as of greater moment than material rights, and peace as the best basis for the just settlement of commercial claims. It has made the honor and ideals of the United States its standard alike in negotiation and action.

Pan-American Unity.

We recognize now, as we have always recognized, a definite and common interest between the United States with the other peoples and republics of the Western Hemisphere in all matters of national independence and free political development. We favor the establishment and maintenance of the closest relations of amity and mutual helpfulness between the United States and the other republics of the American continents for the support of peace and the promotion of a common prosperity. To that end we favor all measures which may be necessary to facilitate intimate intercourse and promote commerce between the United States and her neighbors to the south of us, and such international understandings as may be practicable and suitable to accomplish these ends.

We commend the action of the Democratic Administration in holding the Pan-American Financial Conference at Washington, in May, 1915, and organizing the International High Commission which represented the United States in the recent meeting of representatives of the Latin-American republics at Buenos Aires, April, 1916, which have so greatly promoted the friendly relations between the people of the Western Hemisphere.

The Monroe Doctrine is reasserted as a principle of Democratic faith. That doctrine guarantees the independent republics of the two Americas against aggression from another continent. It implies, as well, the most scrupulous regard upon our part for the sovereignty of each of them. The want of a stable, responsible government in Mexico, capable of repressing and punishing marauders and bandit bands, who have not only taken the lives and seized and destroyed the property of American citizens in that country, but have insolently invaded our soil, made war upon and murdered our people thereon, has rendered it necessary temporarily to occupy by our armed forces, a portion of the territory of that friendly State.

Troops Shall Remain.

Until by the restoration of law and order therein, a repetition of such incursions is improbable, the necessity for their remaining will continue. Intervention, implying as it does, military subjugation, is revolting to the people of the United States, notwithstanding the provocation to that course has been great. The stubborn resistance of the President and his advisers to every demand and suggestion to enter upon it is creditable alike to them and to the people in whose name he speaks.

Immediate provision should be made for the development of the carrying trade of the United States. Our foreign commerce has in the past been subject to many unnecessary and vexatious obstacles in the way of legislation of Democratic congresses. Until the recent Democratic tariff legislation, it was hampered by unreasonable burdens of taxation. Until the recent banking legislation it had at its disposal few of the necessary instrumentalities of international credit and exchange. Until the formulation of the pending act to promote the construction of a merchant marine, it lacked even the prospect of adequate carriage by sea.

For the safeguarding and quickening of the life of our own people, we favor the conservation and development of the natural resources of the country through a policy which shall be positive rather than negative—a policy which shall not withhold such resources from development, but which, while permitting and encouraging their use, shall prevent both waste and monopoly in their exploitation and we earnestly favor the passage of acts which will accomplish these objects and we affirm the declaration of the platform of 1912 on this subject. The policy of reclaiming arid lands should be steadily adhered to.

We favor the vigorous prosecution of investigations and plans to render agriculture more profitable and country life more healthful, comfortable and attractive, and we believe that this should be a dominant aim of the nation as well as of the States. With all its recent

REMINISCENCE PARTY

The lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Prewitt on North Sycamore street was the scene of a unique and enjoyable reminiscence party Saturday afternoon given by Mrs. Prewitt in compliment to her mother, Mrs. Enoch Bruton, and Dr. Prewitt's mother, Mrs. Clifton Prewitt, Sr. The home, always beautiful with the veranda and fences entwined with running roses, presented a charming appearance. The drawing room and dining room were artistically decorated in Dorothy Perkin roses, in the library there was a profusion of crimson ramblers, while the spacious veranda was especially attractive in yellow and white floral decorations. There were twenty-two guests present, all being grandmothers, and five of whom were great-grandmothers.

Prizes were offered for the best reminiscence stories, the first being awarded to Mrs. Newton Ratliff, of Sharpsburg; the second to Mrs. Thomas Johnson, and the third to Mrs. John L. McCormick. An elegant luncheon was served and the affair proved one of the most enjoyable of the early summer.

A FELLOW AND HIS LODGE

Some people are Lodge crazy and join everything in sight. They are called "joiners." Others are pessimistic and can see no good in any lodge.

But there is much good to be derived from membership in any of the legitimate lodges that flourish everywhere, provided the lodge habit is not carried to excess.

It creates a spirit of comradeship among the members that is seldom found elsewhere. If a member is in distress or difficulty, his lodge promptly comes to his relief and tides him over the rough places and into smoother waters. If he is sick, they cheer him with their presence, and watch at his bedside, and see that his family does not suffer during his incapacity. And in many ways they are a distinct benefit one to another.

The lodge is the symbol of the brotherhood of man, and its tenets are founded upon the Bible and advocate the elevation of the human race.

The fellow who identifies himself with some good lodge and lives up to its teachings will be a better man and citizen for the few hours he devotes to its meetings.

ENTRIES AT LEXINGTON

Four hundred and twelve entries have been made in the eight Fixed Events and kept good in the four Kentucky Kentucky Futurity divisions of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Association for its annual meeting October 2-14. This means an average of a fraction over 51 per race, which figure sets the high mark for the year. The principal event is, of course, the great trotting classic, The Transylvania, a \$5,000 event for 2:08 trotters, starters to be named September 15th. Eighteen have taken subscriptions as follows; Pastime Stable, Duquesne Stable, A. McDonald, E. F. Geers, W. R. Cox, Thos. W. Murphy, W. G. Durfee, Thos. D. Bell, L. W. Fischer, C. L. Gloyd, Agent, Harvey Ernest, Dick McMahon, V. L. Shuler, Brook Farm, Bean Ideal Stock Farm, Sangerettes Farm, Samuel Harris and David Cahill. Inasmuch as starters do not have to be named till Sept. 15th it would be mere guess work to say just what horses will be in the field; but the names above naturally suggest such stars as Mabel Trask 2:14 $\frac{1}{4}$, Ima Jay 2:11 $\frac{1}{4}$, Peter Mac 2:03 $\frac{1}{2}$, Tramp-right 2:08 $\frac{1}{4}$, Rasticot 2:08 $\frac{1}{4}$, Ames Albingen 2:07 $\frac{3}{4}$, St. Frisco 2:07 $\frac{1}{4}$, Omar 2:05 $\frac{1}{4}$, Junior Watts 2:11 $\frac{1}{4}$, Peter McCormick 2:05 $\frac{1}{2}$, and Axten 2:06 $\frac{1}{4}$. The Castleton Cup, \$3,000 for 2:07 trotters, has received the entry of 23 of the best racers now in training. It is likely the field in this event will include quite a number of Transylvania starters, as it will be carded the second and the Transylvania the first week. The 3-year-old Kentucky Futurity has 50 trotters and 12 pacers. The trotting wing of this division is worth \$14,00 and always produces a battle royal between the greatest colt trotters of the year. This, the 24th renewal, will be one of the most brilliant contests in the history of the stake. The Kentucky, a \$2,000 event for 3-year-old trotters, and sort of a companion race for the Futurity, has 50 entries. The starters in it will be largely made up of the Futurity geld with the winner barred, lending a new interest. Sixty eight sterling youngsters have made the payment in the 2-year-old Futurity and in its companion race, The Lexington, \$2,000 for 2-year-old trotters, 50 have been entered. In the 2-year-old Futurity winner will be barred, adding to the uncertainty as to the ultimate winner. The Walnut Hall Cup (\$3,000) for 2:12 trotters, has 29 entries; in The Ashland \$2,000, a special event for trotters with time or race record not faster than 2:14 $\frac{1}{4}$, 33 have been entered; in The Cumberland (\$2,000) 2:05 pace, 23, and in The Blue Grass (\$2,000) 2:10 pace, 27 pacers have been entered. The entries will be published in book form at an early date.

A home where the golden rule is lived is the nearest possible approach to heaven. The day comes all to soon when the household is scattered—the boys and girls, alas! girls no longer—are gone to make homes for themselves elsewhere; when some, perhaps, are laid away from our sight, out of reach of kind words or helpful deeds. Happy are we if no sorrowful thoughts haunt us; or hasty words and unkind deeds, if any pleasant memories remain. We may, if our means allow, make our homes beautiful and attractive, and it is well to do so. But without the true spirit of home it will be but a cheerless and desolate mockery—while the humblest cottage where love dwells and kindness reigns, nay most beautifully exemplify the sweetness and blessedness of home.

Because he is the greatest leader of Democracy since Andrew Jackson.

Because he is the most popular Democrat in the country, as an evidence of which there is no opposition to his re-nomination.

Because he is the executive who does things.

Because he has redeemed all of the important pledges of the party made in the Baltimore platform.

Because he has given the country a banking system which prevents a panic and prevents any bank from failing that is solvent.

Because the country is more prosperous under his administration than ever before.

Because he has kept the United States out of war and is the great peace President.

Because he is the greatest diplomat who ever sat in the White House, forcing Germany to agree to his ultimatum in regard to submarine warfare.

Because he is honest and capable.

Because he has not allowed the money power to control and dictate to the business of the country.

Because he has been fair and just in dealing with all the great problems of the day.

Because he has had more great questions to settle than any other President and because he has settled all of them right.

IF (Rudyard Kipling.)

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losng theirs, and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting, too;
If you can wait, and not be tired by waiting;
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies;
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream, and not make dreams your master,
If you can think, and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster,
And treat these two Impostors just the same;

If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,

Or watch the things you've giv'n your life to, broken,
And stoop and build them up with worn-out tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings;
And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings

And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your head and nerve and sinew
To serve their turn long after they are gone,

And so hold on, when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them, "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch;

If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,

If all men count with you, but not too much;

If you can fill each unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run—

Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And what is more, you'll be a Man, my son.

SYSTEMATIZE

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

SPENDING MONEY TO REDUCE SELLING PRICES

If you were going to give a large entertainment, you wouldn't go out personally and deliver a hundred or so invitations verbally, would you? Of course, you would have them engraved and mailed to your guests.

You would in this way spend money to save money and time, which is also money.

Any man who has anything to sell has the problem of getting his invitation to buy before the largest possible number of prospective buyers.

The larger the number he interests, the more units he can make, and the lower his producing cost descends. So he takes the quickest method of reaching a large number of people—printing advertising.

If anyone tells you he is able to sell you his goods at a lower cost because he had no advertising expense, laugh at him.

Advertising reduces sales expense, because a single ad. calls on thousands, while a salesman can call on one or two. Advertising reaches an individual at less than 1 per cent. of the cost of telling the story to that person in any other way.

Advertising increases the keenness of competition so that prices are forced downward.

It would not be possible to produce a lead pencil for two cents, a tube of paste for ten cents, a collar for twelve and a half cents, were it not for the force of advertising in creating a wide demand, permitting quantity production and labor-saving machinery, thus cutting costs.

There are other reasons why you should insist on the advertised product.

The purpose of most advertising is to establish the reputation of a name. In order to live up to that reputation, definite standards of quality must be maintained in the product. It must live up to the claims of the advertisement. Faking or misrepresentation cannot stand the light of publicity.

Advertising is your protection and safeguard. It points out the line of goods of whose quality you can be sure.

HEMP BREAKING IS REVOLUTIONIZED

Warren P. Elkin, of Winchester, who recently invented a power hemp breaking machine, has tried it out and finds that it does the work perfectly and economically. The machine has a capacity of four thousand pounds per day of ten hours. The hemp does not have to be rotted so long or so much and there will be a great saving in weight and quality over the old method of breaking and the new machine does not make anything like as much tow as the hand break.

When the hemp is sufficiently rotted the hemp can be assembled in the field or better in a barn, if it is convenient, and the hemp can be broken out in any kind of weather. It is constructed on a truck and can be hauled from shock to shock in the field if desired.

The machine is being covered by patent for protection.

WHEN MARK TWAIN WAS A COUNTRY EDITOR

When Mark Twain, in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote to him, saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good or bad.

The humorist printed the following answer:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

improvement, farming still lags behind other occupations in development as a business, and the advantages of an advancing civilization have not accrued to rural communities in a fair proportion.

Much has been accomplished in this field under the present Administration—far more than under any previous Administration. In the Federal reserve act of the last Congress and the rural credits act of the present Congress the machinery has been created which will make credit available to the farmer constantly and readily, and he has at last been put upon a footing of equality with the merchant and the manufacturer in securing the capital necessary to carry on his enterprises.

More Helpful Legislation.

Grades and standards necessary to the intelligent and successful conduct of the business of agriculture also have been established or are in the course of being established, by laws. The long needed cotton futures act passed by the Sixty-third Congress now has been in successful operation for nearly two years. A grain grade bill, long needed, and a permissive warehouse bill, intended to provide better storage facilities and to enable the farmer to obtain certificates upon which he may secure advances of money, have been passed by the House of Representatives, have been favorably reported to the Senate, and probably will become law during the present session of the Congress.

Both houses have passed a good roads measure which will be of far reaching benefit to all agricultural communities. Above all, the most extraordinary and significant progress has been made, under the direction of the Department of Agriculture, in extending and perfecting practical farm demonstration work which is so rapidly substituting scientific for empirical farming.

But it is also necessary that rural activities should be better directed through co-operation and organization, that unfair methods of competition should be eliminated and the conditions required for the just, orderly and economical marketing of farm products created.

Protection for Women.

Sixth—Such provisions for decency, comfort and health in the employment of women as should be accorded the mothers of the race.

Seventh—An equitable retirement law providing for the retirement of superannuated and disabled employees of the civil service to the end that a higher standard of efficiency may be maintained.

We believe also that the adoption of similar principles should be urged and applied in the legislation of the States with regard to labor

Favor Extending Work.

We favor continued liberal provision, not only for the benefit of production, but also for the study and solution of problems of farm marketing and finance and for the extension of existing agencies for improving country life.

The happiness, comfort and prosperity of rural life, and the development of the city, are alike conserved by the construction of public highways. We, therefore, favor national aid in the construction of post roads and roads for military purposes.

We hold that the life, health and strength of the men, women and children of the nation are its greatest asset, and that in the conservation of these the Federal Government, wherever it acts as the employer of labor, should both on its own account and as an example, put into effect the following principles of just employment:

1—A living wage for all employees.

2—A working day not to exceed eight hours, with one day of rest in seven.

3—The adoption of safety appliances and the establishment of thoroughly sanitary conditions of labor.

4—Adequate compensation for industrial accidents.

5—The standards of the "uniform child labor law" wherever minors are employed.

Race Re-Opened and New Ones Offered.

We approve the Democratic Administration for having emphatically directed attention for the first time to the essential interests of agriculture involved in farm marketing and finance, for creating the office of markets and rural organization in connection with the Department of Agriculture and for extending the co-operative machinery necessary for conveying information to farmers by means of demonstrations.

WE APPROPRIATELY APPROVE THE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION FOR HAVING EMPHASITICALLY DIRECTED ATTENTION FOR THE FIRST TIME TO THE ESSENTIAL INTERESTS OF AGRICULTURE INVOLVED IN FARM MARKETING AND FINANCE, FOR CREATING THE OFFICE OF MARKETS AND RURAL ORGANIZATION IN CONNECTION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND FOR EXTENDING THE CO-OPERATIVE MACHINERY NECESSARY FOR CONVEYING INFORMATION TO FARMERS BY MEANS OF DEMONSTRATIONS.

Labor Department Praised.

We favor the speedy enactment of an effective Federal child labor law and the regulation of the shipment of prison-made goods in interstate commerce.

We favor the creation of a Federal Bureau of Safety in the Department of Labor to gather facts concerning industrial hazards and to recommend legislation to prevent the maiming and killing of human beings.

We favor the extension of the powers and functions of the Federal Bureau of Mines.

We favor the development upon a systematic scale of the means already begun under the present Administration, to assist laborers throughout the nation to seek and obtain employment and the extension by the Federal Government, by the same assistance and encouragement as is now given to agricultural training.

We again declare the policy that the sacred rights of American citizenship must be preserved at home and abroad and that no treaty with any other Government shall receive the sanction of our Government which does not expressly recognize the absolute equality of all our citizens, irrespective of race, creed or previous nationality, and which does not recognize the right of expatriation.

The American Government should protect American citizens in their rights not only at home, but abroad, and any country holding a Government should be held to strict accountability for any wrong done them, either to person or property.

We favor the establishment by the Federal Government of tuberculosis sanatoriums for needy tubercular patients.

We favor such an alteration of the rules of procedure of the Senate of the United States as will permit the prompt transaction of the nation's legislative business.

We demand careful economy in all expenditures for the support of the Government and to that end favor a return by the House of Representatives to its former practice of initiating and preparing all appropriation bills through a single committee chosen from its membership, in order that responsibility may be centered, expenditures standardized and made uniform, and waste and duplication in the public service as much as possible avoided. We favor this as a practicable first step toward a budget system.

We reaffirm our declarations for a rigid enforcement of the civil service laws.

We heartily indorse the provisions of the bill recently passed by the House of Representatives further promoting self-government in the Philippine Islands as being in fulfillment of the policy declared by the Democratic party in its last national platform, and we reiterate our indorsement of the purpose of ultimate independence of the Philippine Islands, expressed in the preamble of that measure.

Woman Suffrage Blank.

We recommend the extension of the franchise to the women of the country by the States upon the same terms as to men.

We again declare the policy that the sacred rights of American citizenship must be preserved at home and abroad and that no treaty with any other Government shall receive the sanction of our Government which does not expressly recognize the absolute equality of all our citizens, irrespective of race, creed or previous nationality, and which does not recognize the right of expatriation.

The American Government should protect American citizens in their rights not only at home, but abroad, and any country holding a Government should be held to strict accountability for any wrong done them, either to person or property.

At the earliest practical opportunity our country should strive earnestly for peace among the warring nations of Europe and seek to bring about the adoption of the fundamental principle of justice and humanity, that all men shall enjoy equality of right and freedom from discrimination in the lands where they dwell.

We demand that the modern principles of prison reform be applied in our Federal penal system. We favor such work for prisoners as shall give them training in remunerative occupations, so that they may make an honest living when released from prison; the setting apart of the net wages of the prisoner, to be paid to his dependent family or to be reserved for his own use upon his release; the liberal extension of the principles of the Federal parole law, with due regard both to the welfare of the prisoner and the interests of society; the adoption of the probation system, especially in the case of first offenders not convicted of serious crimes.

Favor Pension System.

We renew the declarations of recent Democratic platforms relating to generous pensions for soldiers and their widows, and call attention to our record of performance in this particular.

We renew the declaration in our last two platforms relating to the development of our waterways. The recent devastation of the lower Mississippi Valley and several other sections by floods accentuates the movement for the regulation of river flow by additional bank and levee protection below and diversion, storage and control of the flood waters above, and their utilization for beneficial purposes in the reclamation of arid and swamp lands, and development of water power, instead of permitting the floods to continue as heretofore, agents of destruction.

We hold that the control of the Mississippi River is a national problem. The preservation of the depth of its waters for purposes of navigation, the building of levees and works of bank protection to maintain the integrity of its channel and prevent the overflow of its valley resulting in interruption of interstate commerce and the disorganization of the mail service and the enormous loss of life and property, impose an obligation which alone can be discharged by the National Government.

We favor the adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for the development and improvement of our harbors and inland waterways with economy and efficiency, so as to permit their navigation by vessels of standard draft.

It has been and will be the policy of the Democratic party to enact all laws necessary for the speedy development of Alaska and its great natural resources.

Laws for Territories.

We favor granting to the people of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico the traditional territorial government accorded to all territories of the United States since the beginning of our government and we believe the officials appointed to administer the government of those several territories should be qualified by previous bona fide residence.

We unreservedly indorse our President and Vice President, Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and Thomas Riley Marshall, of Indiana, who have performed the functions of their great offices faithfully and impartially and with distinguished ability.

In particular, we commend to the American people the splendid diplomatic victories of our great President, who has preserved the vital interests of our Government and its citizens and kept us out of war. Woodrow Wilson stands today the greatest American of his generation.

This is a critical hour in the history of America, a critical hour in the history of the world. Upon the record above set forth, which shows great constructive achievement in following out a consistent policy for our domestic and international development upon the record of the Democratic Administration, which has maintained the honor, the dignity and the interests of the United States and at the same time retained the respect and friendship of all the nations of the world, and upon the great policies for the future strengthening of the life of our country, the enlargement of our national vision and the enabling of our international relations, as set forth above, we appeal with confidence to the voters of the country.

IMMENSE

That's the word that expresses the crowds that have taken advantage of our Cut Price Sale inaugurated THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1916, surpassing any previous sale ever held by this store and you know the reason.

Well, in the language of T. R. there is no "pussy-footing" about our prices or our sales. We told you that everything a man or boy wore sold by this store would be cut in price, that nothing would be reserved and we meant it, and have kept our word. Our prices and merchandise when compared with others will verify our statements. No store burdened with tremendous overhead expenses can hope to meet our prices and fairly compete with a store so strongly entrenched in economical merchandising as the Walsh Company's. Remember this when the dollar earned is slipping from your grasp. Whether the purchase be a collar, a pair of shoes or a suit of clothes, compare article for article and price for price with others and save. Our sale will continue until further notice. Nothing charged—one price. Your money refunded if purchase is not satisfactory. Read the prices.
